

Que-2 : What are HTML entities? List out 5 commonly used HTML entities.

The HTML Entities are strings of text that start with an ampersand symbol(&) and end with a semicolon(;).

These entities are commonly used to demonstrate characters that are reserved (otherwise, they would be interpreted as HTML code) and imperceptible characters such as non-breaking spaces.

Some of the commonly used HTML entities are :

1. Copyright symbol (©) - ©
2. Ampersand symbol (&) - &
3. Less than symbol (<) - <
4. Greater than symbol (>) - >
5. Trademark symbol (™) - ™
